Optimal client experience drives our execution and priorities

Issue

A global manufacturing firm with increasingly complex property risks had its global Property capacity reduced by its incumbent carrier.

Solution

Bringing together AIG's integrated global resources, including expert underwriters, risk engineering and claims, it was possible to truly understand the client's unique risks and put forth meaningful capacity to meet the client's risk management objectives. The client maintained its program integrity around the world without disrupting local policy issuance.

Why is this important?

AIG's integrated global capabilities deliver needed capacity and customized Property solutions.

Issue

Finding limited market capacity, a global environmental services company with operations in 17 countries sought a tailored multinational Property program.

Solution

Property underwriters partnered with the Multinational Client Executive and the client to customize a program in line with the client's needs and market practices across all the client's global locations, resulting in a unique fronted structure in which the client retains part of the primary layer risk.

Why is this important?

Deep local and global knowledge and fronting expertise help support the clients' global programs and business needs.
