Trade Credit Insurance

The Trade Credit division of AIG provides protection for clients against accounts receivable losses. Companies that sell goods or services on credit terms are highly exposed to the risk of non-payment due to customer insolvency, protracted default and political risks that prevent the buyer from fulfilling its payment obligations.

What is Trade Credit Insurance?

• Trade Credit Insurance indemnifies the policyholder for the invoice value of goods delivered to a customer but unpaid due to the customer’s insolvency or default.

• Policies are written on a 12-month basis, covering goods delivered to customers during the policy period.

• Premium is charged as a rate on sales or a rate on approved limits. The policy features risk-sharing in the form of a self-insured retention and/or co-insurance.

Who Buys Trade Credit Insurance?

• Any company that sells goods and services on credit terms (i.e., extends credit to customers rather than requiring payment up front) and is exposed to the risk of non-payment.

• Large, medium and small commercial enterprises.

• Subsidiaries or divisions of Multinational companies may buy coverage for different regions or product lines locally, or under a coordinated global program.

Questions to Consider

• Could your company benefit by safely expanding sales and extending credit to new or existing customers?

• Can your company take advantage of emerging market opportunities to compete in today’s global market?

• Are your accounts receivable concentrated among a few key customers? Do your top 10 customers account for a majority of your sales?

• Has one of your key customers ever filed for bankruptcy?

• Has your company ever experienced annual bad debt losses larger than your reserve?

• Is your company considering selling its products internationally?

• Can your company benefit from enhanced accounts receivable financing?

Top 10 Reasons to Buy Trade Credit Insurance

1. Protects against the risk of a customer default on sales made on credit terms.

2. Increase sales to new and existing customers.

3. Mitigates concentration risk when a large portion of a company’s sales are concentrated among a few customers.

4. Facilitates attractive bank financing.

5. Helps establish new foreign markets to increase export sales.

6. Supports a company’s accounts receivable management and validates credit protocols.

7. Provides an insured credit limit for a customer and monitors portfolio performance during the policy period.

8. Reduce your company’s bad debt reserve.

9. Offers a solution for directors and officers by providing a second opinion on customer credit limit decisions and monitoring the customer portfolio.

10. Provides cost-effective collection agency services.
