

Emergency Security and Political Evacuation Coverage

Keeping employees safe is a critical concern for multinational companies operating overseas. Crisis events can happen anywhere, at any time, endangering the security of team members working abroad. From political unrest to armed conflict, AIG's Emergency Security and Political Evacuation Endorsement provides coverage and resources to help protect employees outside of their home country in the wake of unforeseen events.

Comprehensive Evacuation Coverage

- Unique to AIG, benefits can be paid "on behalf of" the client, rather than by reimbursement only, when arrangements are made by AIG Travel.
- Coverage responds to crisis situations occurring from political unrest, personal threats and armed conflict.
- Coverage does not require a government warning to be issued.
- Participants may be removed from their immediate location, regardless of the nearest transport hub.
- Evacuated employees, directors, officers and guests have the option to return to their host country or place of assignment within 14 days if return is safe and permitted.

AIG helps U.S. and Canadianbased companies manage multinational exposures with WorldRisk®, a flexible package of foreign commercial coverages. The Emergency Security and Political Evacuation endorsement is available with WorldRisk policies that include a Foreign Voluntary Compensation and Employer's Liability coverage part.

Coverage Details

- Up to $25,000 of eligible expenses per occurrence paid on behalf of the client when AIG Travel makes arrangements and authorizes all expenses in advance.
- Up to $10,000 of eligible expenses per occurrence reimbursed when AIG Travel does not make arrangements.
- Limits can be increased to $50,000 and $100,000.

The AIG Travel Difference

- 24-hour travel, medical and security assistance is available throughout every time zone with a single phone call to AIG Travel's global service center.
- AIG Travel works closely with medical providers and over 300 air ambulance providers and medical transport providers, so clients and their employees can receive quality medical care and medical evacuation transportation assistance even in the most remote locations.
