Why AIG

Product Creativity and Flexibility

ISSUE

A government contractor required a cyber product to sit alongside their marine shipbuilding exposures.

SOLUTION

AIG Marine Liability worked closely with the AIG cyber team to customize a program to address the client's exposure, fill in the gaps around coverages and provide a solution that other carriers could not offer.

BENEFIT

Collaboration among the client, broker and AIG Marine Liability team resulted in the contractor receiving the tailored coverages it needed.

WHY IS THIS IMPORTANT?

AIG Marine Liability's full spectrum of product capabilities and expertise enable client solutions.

Multinational Capabilities

ISSUE

A marine terminal client recently acquired a company with assets located in the U.S. and Canada, which required local coverage in both countries.

SOLUTION

AIG deployed local admitted coverage that covered various layers in the client's liability tower.

BENEFIT

AIG's global network was there to quickly provide the client with local underwriting expertise and market leading capacity.

WHY IS THIS IMPORTANT?

AIG's expansive network and local knowledge helps Marine Liability clients get their multinational risks covered.

Risk Consulting and Claims Expertise

ISSUE

A Marine Liability client needed to benchmark their risk and safety procedures against their peers.

SOLUTION

AIG Marine Loss Control Engineering (MLCE) conducted a tabletop exercise and onsite review of the insured's operations to assess against best practices.

BENEFIT

MLCE collaborated with the client to create and implement a prescriptive risk management program.

WHY IS THIS IMPORTANT?

AIG Marine Loss Control Engineering helps clients put proper risk control procedures in place to protect insured assets.
