

Data Centers: Capacity that follows the lifecycle

A guide to AIG’s capacity deployment across the full data center lifecycle, anchored on Construction/Builders’ Risk (BR) and Operational Property/Business Interruption (BI) insurance, and supported by complementary lines.

Our global data center insurance proposition brings together meaningful gross capacity* of up to US$750M for Construction/Builders’ Risk and up to US$750M for Operational Property including Business Interruption — providing significant support across the key stages of the data center lifecycle. As a major global insurer, AIG can also support larger capacity deployments in specific cases through customized placement structures.

Beyond these headline capacities, AIG can offer significant gross capacity across complementary lines to deliver a comprehensive, end-to-end solution that can be tailored by lifecycle stage, geography, structure, and risk appetite.
